👎 Block access to offensive talk list messages (talk)
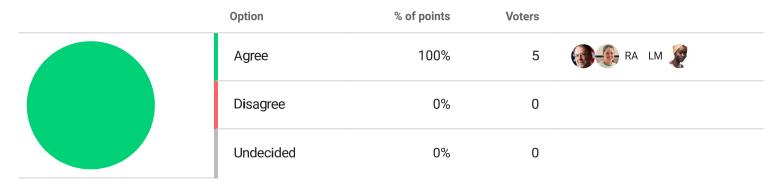

🏁 This proposal has closed. Please consider what as been said and share an outcome, so people know what'll happen next.

[ENTER OUTCOME]

Started by Allan Mustard · Closed Sat 16 Jul 2022 5:01PM

Deletion of messages from the talk and osmf-talk archive is arduous for the sysadmins. However, access can easily be blocked by setting a flag to return an Error 451 - Unavailable for Legal Reasons. The message remains in the archive and may be retrieved by sysadmins if needed for any reason, but is not accessible to the general public. Should messages deemed offensive by the moderators be blocked as a matter of course?

Results

	Option	% of points	Voters
	Agree	100%	5	👤👤 RA LM 👤
	Disagree	0%	0
	Undecided	0%	0

5 of 5 people have voted (100%)

reopen

Votes

Radmila 👍 July 13

Angela Teyvi 👍 July 12

LM Logan McGovern 👍 July 12

This is a neat way of managing the contents of the talk channels without an arduous amount of work. I agree.

RA Rubaina Adam 👍 July 12

Offensive messages have no place on the mailing list and I believe they should be blocked

Allan Mustard 👍 July 11

Offensive means offensive, and should be removed from public view.

< 1 >